

Un- named Cast Iron Railings and gates in Colchester.

---

August 2018

Despite the ravages from the 1942 scrap iron collection for the War effort a great deal of railings , posts and gates have managed to survive in front gardens across the Borough. It is impossible to tell who made them now and many houses have similar railings especially the earlier , more simple patterns. Some of the later more elaborate patterns seem familiar but it is impossible to attribute them. We can appreciate them though.
